Introduction

I want to encourage all who might read this book to understand that yes, there are many grand things in life, many things that are in the world seemingly “only” of imagination because of their magnitude, and things even beyond imagination. Yet all around you in every moment you are surrounded by the most magical and mystical beings. They are too small, of course, for you to see as single individuals. But in groups you know them as the physical matter of your daily life—a chair, a table, a dog, a cat, a beloved, a house, a car. In other words, in groups they form all of your physical life as you know it.

Particles—who might be considered either atoms or portions of atoms—consciously view the vast spectrum of reality, yet also have a sense of personal memory like your own linear memory. But unlike your linear memory, where you remember the order of events you have lived, these particles remember where they have been and what they have done in their long, long lives and can access the higher strains associated with their experiences as well.

For instance, perhaps at one time a particle might have been a portion of a tree, when it had access to all the tree’s higher wisdom and knowledge, what it had been before or might be in the future. Or perhaps it might have been in the ocean. The knowledge of anything swimming past it or growing or simply existing nearby would also be available to it. So a particle has not only its own personal wisdom but anything or anyone it has ever passed through.

Particles, then, have a unique and unusual perspective. In reading this book, understand that some of them will have similar points of view. But others will have quite extraordinary and unexpected points of view. Expect the unexpected!

I don’t know what to expect. This is delightfully new.

An adventure, yes? We shall see who wishes to speak first.

A Particle of Gold

December 2, 1996

I am a particle of the substance you know as gold. I would like to tell you a little bit about this substance. It is treasured for its monetary value, yes, but before that it was always utilized by members of the priest and priestess class because it can protect beyond its physical parameters.

Gold: Self-Motivated, Able to Absorb/Anoint/Initiate

Gold is an ore, yes, a mineral, but gold is self-motivated. As a self-motivated being, a human being knows that you go where you will and must, even where you can. Other things are less so; a rock in a stream tumbles along according to the whims of the water and erosion. But gold beams out an auric field that is so strong, especially to sensitives who might feel it, that the field becomes increasingly stronger, to the tenth power. A quantity of gold—let us say an ingot—might have an auric field that extends halfway to your moon, and anything within that range—be it a person, a plant, a stone, lightning, a cloud, a passing satellite, a ship from another planet, even what you call a falling star—could be absorbed, felt, understood and (this is most important) anointed.

Gold has the capability to anoint. The more ancient religions understood this. The vessels for their sacraments were made of gold because gold in and of itself anoints. It can also initiate. However, it cannot anoint or initiate in any way that is negative. So those who might try to use gold and its abilities in a negative way would be anointed in a positive way instead. This tells you that gold, not unlike yourself, has a sense of will, of determination. It will not be turned, for it is what it is and that is what it must be.

Two gold ingots, by working together, might easily radiate to Mars or even partway to Saturn. Put many, many ingots of gold together, such as exist in some places, and that gold can radiate to other star systems, even sometimes to the edge of the universe itself. This ability tells you that gold has absorbed all knowledge in your universe. It is the only element that can do this. Other elements do many wondrous things, but gold naturally absorbs.

You might ask, "Toward what end? Why?" Since gold naturally anoints and since it has felt and been aware of your souls before you were sent out by your Creator to ultimately become the Explorer Race, gold knows each and every one of you. Can you imagine that every particle of gold in this universe (and we are all united, no matter where we are) knows each and every one of you?

We always anoint whenever we are touched, and when some wisdom absorbed by gold is brought in contact with a human being who touches it, the gold passes on that wisdom to the living spirit of that person. The living spirit is the soul consciousness that lives in you. This means it is accessible to your conscious mind. You can ask for it.

Ways to Absorb Gold's Knowledge

Perhaps you have something gold-plated or a little solid gold ring. If you have a gold ring, turn it so that only the gold is facing you. Touch it to your eyelids or your third eye or your lips—any of these places. Before you do, ask that the gold give you any knowledge it has absorbed that would be good for you to have right now in your living spirit so that you might in time bring it to your conscious mind, using it to your benefit and perhaps the benefit of others. In this way you can bring about greater awareness.

Here's something else you can do: You can make gold water. If you find a particular item of gold that works well for you, stimulates your third eye or seems to cause you to feel well, if it will not oxidize, place it in a glass of clear water. Spring water is best, but if you have only city water, then filter it. (Chlorine tends to decrease its effectiveness, a curious side effect.)

After you place it in filtered or spring water, speak out loud to it and ask that the gold emit into the water knowledge that will be beneficial to your living spirit. Leave it in the water at least twelve hours, then drink, being careful not to swallow the object. Then remove the ring or coin and put it away.

Gold has been granted by the Creator of this universe with this responsibility of anointment. Now I'm going to tell you something that to my knowledge has never been stated before to the human race.

Gold Is Creator's Love in Third Dimension

If you could take a portion of Creator's heart, bring it to the dimension you are in now, it would feel like pure love, but it would take the form of gold. The Creator is often referred to as the Golden Lightbeing. This is not an accident. These inferences have been suggested to many religious leaders over many lifetimes, so it has gradually filtered into your mythology and philosophy and religious studies. This is reality. Creator makes certain, you see, that when you are on this planet where you learn so much in such a short time, you will have the elements essential for your growth, your projection and progress. Creator does this in such a way as to make you feel that It has provided many valuable, loving things, which will come up in the progress of this book: gold, clear quartz and many other things.

Is he bothering you [referring to Tiger, the cat]?

No. He is the right color, is he not? [Laughter.] Golden cat present.

Do you want questions?

Question time is available.

When gold radiates like that, what is its effect on space and the planets it goes through?

If gold were not valued as a currency and was just a pretty rock, people would put it around like they do with other pretty rocks. Then it would do what it is intended to do, which is to anoint freely, openly and availably. But because it is considered currency and important in that way, it is often shut away or put someplace where it will not be taken by the unauthorized. So we now need to put more gold into the public eye.

Interestingly enough, those who sell gold, even gold-plated things from little carts or shops in places where people gather, are doing a great service because the gold constantly emanates energy and provides greatly for the true enlightenment of beings who pass by. It is not an accident that you find gold attractive. It has been built into your very cells that you would be attracted to it, even when it is just itself and not carved into the many beautiful trinkets you make with it.

So it would be good someday to incorporate more in public places. I see that sometimes this has been done, especially in places of religious importance: gold leaf in churches and in places where there is great art. It takes such a tiny layer of gold to do good,
